DENIS KOSUTIC

Austria

Denis Košutić's work can be seen as an anti-traditional perception of the role of architecture in the modern world. In his "prêt-à-porter-architecture", he masterfully translates modern tendencies and trends from fashion and design into the language of everyday life, considering architecture as a subject of consumption instead of a monument for eternity.

GÉRARD FAIVRE

France

Gerard Faivre, recognized as one of the best contemporary interior designers, created the concept Gerard Faivre Residence, apartments and luxury properties completely renovated, furnished and decorated with fully integrated hotel services. To create an original work of art, Faivre imbues himself with the soul of each property. For him, each site is both a blank canvas and a source of inspiration.

LORENZO CASTILLO

Spain

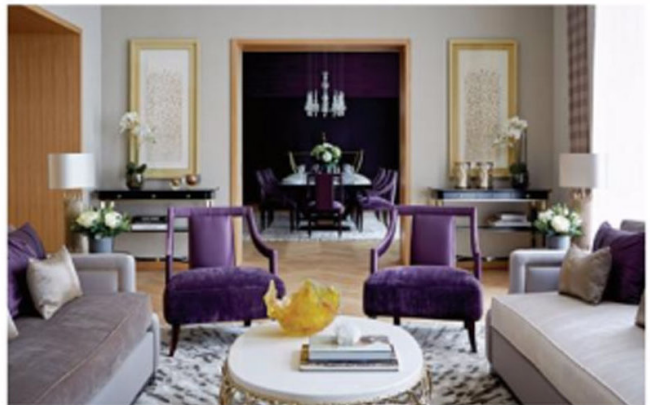

Before venturing into interiors, Madrid-based designer Castillo trained his masterful eye as an antiquarian. His treasure trove of Old World finds are housed at his eponymously-named shop located blocks away from the Prado Art Museum. His insatiable appreciation for antiques and art, energized with a contemporary flare for color and print has put him on the map as one of Europe's most desirable designers.

TAYLOR HOWES

United Kingdom

Karen Howes builds her successful design practice according to a specific vision: a positive, approachable and refreshing energy that not only produces great work, but also ensures that clients enjoy the whole experience. Private clients, hoteliers and property developers flock there not just for the comprehensive design service, but also for the Taylor Howes brand of restrained glamour.
